

NEWSLETTER TO SUPPORTERS: JULY 2018

Transforming our operation

Prisoners' Penfriends has enjoyed a remarkable six months: thanks to the generosity of Kingston and Wandsworth Area Quaker Meeting and the Worshipful Company of Drapers, we have funded, not only a move to wonderful new premises, but also the appointment of a new General Manager. The charity is now based in a large office in the crypt of a church in central London and its new General Manager is Juliane Hémon, who comes to us from the Koestler Trust.

New patrons

The charity is proud to announce that we have two new patrons: Lynn Saunders OBE and Terry Waite CBE. Lynn is Governor of HMP Whatton and is widely known and respected for her ground-breaking and compassionate work to prevent sexual crime and towards the rehabilitation of people who have committed such crimes. Humanitarian and author, Terry Waite, was, from 1987 to 1991, himself held prisoner in Lebanon, following his attempt to negotiate the release of hostages there. He is a regular contributor to the prison newspaper Inside Time.
